

Restaurant:	Taj Indian Restaurant (Cincinnati, OH, US)
Field Reporter:	N/A	Date:	November 17th, 2022
The Show:	Good (5)
Attendance:	Score:	Yellow Cards:	Red Cards:
President:
Nate Deems	9
Members:
Rob Bosma	8.9	-	-
Christian Rauch	8.2	-	-
Sven Menninger	7	-	-
Jack Crawley	7.5	-	-
Totals:	40.6 (avg. below)	0	0
General Comments:
Quickly evolving into "The Anderson Classic," the Gentleman of the Cincinnati and Surrounding Areas Curry Club (CASACC) convened early in November on Thursday the 17th to enjoy drinks at Latitudes Bar & Bistro prior to evaluating dinner at Taj Indian Cuisine in Anderson Township, Cincinnati, OH. This noncontroversial gathering was held early in order to avoid conflict with the much more controversial dinner to be held by Americans all over the following Thursday (which would have been our usual meeting time). The evening began at Latitudes Bar & Bistro (a familiar watering hole for the CASACC) where members gathered to discuss important topics such as 3D Printing, the state of the Economy, and undefeated Father Time. The CASACC was delighted to learn that Latitudes had employed a consultant to make improvements to their establishment resulting in less records on the wall, plans to improve sound while live bands played, and half-off tabs before 6p! Before departing for Taj Indian Restaurant, a splash of Bourbon was enjoyed on the house (much appreciated!) Upon arrival at Taj Indian Restaurant, the CASACC was promptly seated and served complementary poppadoms (also much appreciated!) before being surprised by two members arriving just in time for dinner. A larger table was required which was quickly accommodated and the CASACC went to work on making their dinner selections. While browsing the menu, the CASACC agreed that the chutneys were delicious although one was hot and different in a way that sparked conversations on the ingredients. Confusion aside, service was excellent and the food came quickly to the delight of a very hungry bunch! Dinner seemed to meet expectations all around with the only noteworthy comment being about the Naan bread which was doughier than expected but deemed to be more than acceptable. Additionally, portions were a tad on the smaller side but the club still enjoyed their dinner while discussing German Beers and German Cars. The evening ended with gentle reminders from the President that our Constitution is not a recommendation and that rules must be followed in 2023 (including timely reports). It was decided that the year-end party would occur on December 29th, 2022 under the expert guidance of newly appointed President Rob Bosma (see Figure 1). One final decision was made for Rob and Jack to partner on new plaques to replace the missing plaques used to indicate the seating position of the President and the late Alan Patten. It was agreed that the plaque of Alan Patten would include a bust so that his presence could be felt by all that miss him dearly. Overall, it has been a great year for the CASACC (as always) and the group is looking forward to the year-end celebration next month!
Final Average Score:	8.12

Figure 1 - Handoff of the Ceremonial Blazer to newly appointed President Rob Bosma (2022-11-17)